This production celebrates a broad cross-section of Bermudian poets and spoken word artists, showcasing Jerry's work as well as their own in a continuation of his inspiration and passion.

Featured artists include: Chris Astwood, Arthur 'De' DeSilva, Kim Dismont Robinson, Patricka Ferguson, Nick Hutchings, Debbie Lombardo, Paul Maddern, Tiffany Paynter, Andra Simons, Alan Smith, Yesha Townsend and Keamon Wollaston (Adum Reb), with special appearances by Jerry's nieces, Heather Nova and Christina Frith.

Jerry was a poet and storyteller, a farmer and conservationist. He is widely known for his collection of local vernacular poetic essays, "Oh Gawd, I Vish Dis Ig'rance Vud Stop!" The performance is an opportunity to explore the merging of deeper Bermudian cultural experiences into the rich 40-year legacy of the Bermuda Festival.

Part proceeds will benefit BEST in its vision for a sustainable Bermuda for future generations.
