Bermuda Better Energy Plan

In 2019, less than 2% of Bermuda's electricity is produced with renewable resources. There are no legislated renewable energy targets & few commitments to it.

Currently BELCO is about to be sold and the IRP, Bermuda's 20 year energy plan, is being finalized all in the next three weeks.

Since working with Greenrock and leading the campaign to promote a more sustainable and prosperous energy future, we have concluded that the will of the people should be considered and targets must be legislated to ensure a sensible energy future is implemented.

In partnership with Greenrock, we are launching a petition to encourage the people of Bermuda to support setting targets for renewable energy and to ensure the people's voices are heard before it is too late.

We, the people of Bermuda, request that the Government of Bermuda enact legislation to require that 70% of our electricity is produced with renewable energy sources by 2040. Bermuda and our planet need urgent energy leadership. We need your help, please sign our petition and forward this email to your communities.
