Join Bermuda's Virtual March on Monsanto on FRIDAY, MAY 19TH.

Living in Bermuda, we may not realise the extent to which our lives are impacted by the Monsanto Corporation. While we may not have GMO crops in Bermuda, we import much of our food from the U.S. where they do have GMO crops, and which are then used to produce many packaged food items that we buy and consume.

In Bermuda, the name 'Monsanto' may be most known as the maker of the pesticide RoundUp; a pesticide which contains glyphosate, a chemical deemed by the World Health Organisation to be a probable carcinogen. The term 'probable' is used because testing of RoundUp cannot be done on human beings (but causes tumours in lab rats). In this context, 'probable' means likely... not just possible. Health concerns are even greater now that RoundUp is also being used (in the) days before the harvesting of wheat, increasing the concentration in food products.

Monsanto is a publicly-traded, multinational, agrochemical and agricultural biotechnology corporation, whose shareholders make money while the food supply is being poisoned.
